IN THE LAST WEEK...

This week we welcomed our Governors into school for our Governor Monitoring Day. They began the morning by meeting parents at the school gate before spending time speaking with children about their WILD sessions and our ongoing eco projects. Governors also visited maths lessons, joined pupils for playtime and lunch, and even spent time in wraparound care to gain a full picture of daily life in school.

Throughout the day, Governors met with staff to discuss key areas of school life, including attendance, technology, safeguarding, finance, inclusion and behaviour. It was a very positive and productive day for Governors, staff and pupils alike, and a wonderful opportunity to share a "day in the life" of our school community.

Today we have been celebrating Red Nose Day, and the children all look fantastic in their bright red accessories – with some embracing completely red outfits! Thank you for supporting us in raising money for Comic Relief. Please donate if you have not already done so.

Thank you to those who shopped at our Book Fair this week. Apologies for the technical issues and appreciate your patience. We made £472.56 for books for the school library.

Please remember to sign up for Parents' Evening next week. It's a great chance to discuss your child's progress, so do book your slot as soon as possible. If you need help with the booking system, the school office is happy to assist.
